FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27

COL. DICK'S advice to Senator Hanna to cut out his utterances on trusts did not have very much effect. The Senator is going from bad to worse.

MR. HANNA has taken a great weight off the minds of the people by telling them that there are no trusts in this country. Meanwhile the combinations which Hanna says aren't trusts are doing all they can to lighten the people's pocketbooks.

EVERY property owner in Summit county is interested in this fall's election. Taxpayers should not forget that the men who are to fix the tax value upon all their real estate for the next ten years are to be chosen at the polls a few days hence. Vote.

IN ONE breath Mr. Hanna blames Grover Cleveland for not placing an anti-trust law upon the statute books during his Administration, and in the next he says there are no such things as trusts! Perhaps Grover Cleveland was like Hanna; wouldn't know a trust if he saw it.

"BRYAN can't do no harm in this State so long as I can get the last say," said Senator Hanna in a speech at Bowling Green. "Bryan don't like me. I don't blame him; he has reason to dislike me." After this convincing speech Judge Nash ought to carry Wood county by 5,000 plurality.

"SUPPOSE you created new money—how would you get it in circulation?" is a stupid question often asked by advocates of the scarce money policy. A visit to Mr. Hanna's local headquarters any time within the next ten days will furnish a practical demonstration of how a great deal of money is getting into circulation in this locality.

"WHEN BRYAN was in this state before, every county in which he spoke went Republican. We carried every county in which I addressed the voters." Thus spoke Senator Hanna at Bowling Green. If our Republican friends fail to carry every county in Ohio this year they will know why. It will be because they don't give Mr. Hanna a chance.

THE people will have to get rid of the bosses before they can get rid of trusts or any of the evils that threaten the people through the ability of the privileged interests to control legislation. Bosses are the agents of the privileged interests. The Democratic party is an organized protest against bossism, because in that party only are the people in control. Strengthen the Democratic party by supporting its ticket.

THE Machine's local organ had to devote no less than six columns of its valuable space last night to "explaining." But it has not yet tried to explain why the high salaried Republican officials at the Court House defeated the Russell Salary bill. After this is explained to the satisfaction of Summit county's voters the Beacon should show how Akron has been benefited by having a dictatorial Probate Judge who insists upon running the affairs of the Board of City Commissioners.

THERE is a law that forbids third parties to be represented by challengers and inspectors at the polls, and Mr. Hanna's Secretary of State has lost no time issuing an order that this provision should be rigidly enforced against the Jones men. While it may be good law to exclude third party representatives from the polls, it is founded upon a bad principle. This is a government in which the people have a right to vote for whomsoever they please, and no technical barriers should be permitted to stand in the way of giving their wishes force and effect.

THE Summit County Democratic organization, encouraged and supported by hundreds of independent Republicans, has put the Machine politicians upon the run. Their leaders are having a very bad case of rattles, judging from the desperate efforts each candidate is making to save himself. Akron people especially have suffered much from the high-handed methods of the Machine and their only remedy is to vote the Machine out of power this fall. No wonder that in the hour of retribution the Machine's beneficiaries are fearful of the consequences.

"THE combination of 'corporations,' says Senator Hanna, 'means a

CONCERNING MR. KEMPEL.

The Beacon estimates the value of public service rendered by a Legislator by the number of fool laws with which he encumbers the statute books—laws that are never made to be enforced and whose only effect is to show to the constituents of Representative Jones or Senator Smith that those officials are influential enough to get a bill bearing their name through the General Assembly.

The Beacon made this false assumption of merit its excuse for a four-column personal attack upon Representative Kempel last night. After garbling his record as shown by the House Journal, and omitting all mention of his support of wholesome and necessary measures in which the people were vitally interested, the Beacon said that Mr. Kempel ought to be defeated for a second term because only a few bills bearing his name were incorporated into law.

Most people believe that already too many laws, whose only justification is egotism or local pride, are upon the Statute books, and that the legislator who votes "no" upon propositions of this kind is doing more of a public service than the man who gives them support.

Several years ago Gen. A. C. Voris, while Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, in the course of a decision in the case of Wheeler vs. Price, concerning the right to possession of the office of Akron Street Commissioner, was unsparing in his criticism of the Legislature's enacting so many laws—in themselves of no material consequence to the people, but whose attempted enforcement entailed unusual burdens upon the courts and an enormous expense upon the people. And later on these abuses of the law-making power were further commented on, and even severer strictures were made upon the Legislature, in the course of an address by Gen. Voris to business men at Columbus.

Gen. Voris informed the DEMOCRAT this morning that before Representative Kempel went to Columbus to take his seat in the Legislature, he gave him a copy of the address referred to above. Mr. Kempel made many of the wise suggestions contained in Gen. Voris's paper the guiding rule of his conduct in the Legislature.

Now which authority will the people of Akron accept as the worthier in the estimate that has been set upon this particular form of official service performed by Representative Kempel?

Shall it be the organ of Dobson, condemned as unfair and unscrupulous by leading men of the party which it purports to represent—or the citizen and soldier whom the Republican party has honored upon the bench—a man whom all our people know and whose judgment they respect?

saving in the cost of production and a better chance for American industries to compete with foreign manufacturers."

A few years ago it was the proper thing to tax the American people a hundred per cent or so upon everything they bought to enable the American manufacturers to compete with foreign manufacturers for the control of the home market. Now the people are being made to pay a hundred per cent more to enable "the American industries to compete with foreign manufacturers." And the foreigner pays the tax.

JUDGE STUART was placed at the head of the local Republican Campaign committee chiefly because he was considered to be opposed to Judge Anderson's wobbling policy throughout the telephone fight. The Machine politicians thought that in this way they could prevent independent Republicans from doing anything against the ticket. Now that Judge Stuart has been drafted into the service he is permitted to be nothing more than a figurehead so far as Judge Anderson's campaign is concerned. After the votes are counted Judge Anderson may

GEN. SHAFTER attained celebrity as the only general in history who ever commanded his forces by telephone while reclining in a hammock seven miles away from the firing line, but Judge Anderson was winning honors by wire long before Shafter's telephone battery was in action. Ever since Commissioner Jos. Huggill and other independent officials were retired from the Board to make room for men of better adaptability to the purposes of the Machine, the telephone wire connecting the office of the City Commissioners with the office of Commanding General Anderson has been kept buzzing with a rapid interchange of reports and orders.

"THE DEMOCRATS, in full power for four years," says Senator Hanna, "did not put a single anti-trust law on the statute books; the only one there was placed there by John Sherman."

The era of Democracy to which Mr. Hanna refers was the Democracy of Grover Cleveland—as unlike the Democracy of Mr. Bryan as the Republicanism of Mark Hanna is unlike the Republicanism of Abraham Lincoln.

But while Mr. Hanna is condemning Cleveland, he ought to tell what his own party, in power for several years, has done against trusts. Attorney-General Monnett is a terrible example of what the Hanna Administration thinks of trusts.

MINER'S FACE

Terribly Cut by Explosion In Mine.

He Was Within Three Feet of Shot When It Went Off.

Fred Gern, whose home is in Clinton was dangerously injured by an explosion in the Billman coal mine near Doylestown Thursday.

He prepared two shots, applied fire to them and then sought a place of safety. One shot went off all right and after waiting a short time Gern started to see about the second one, believing that the fuse had gone out. Several miners called to him to wait but he either failed to hear them or paid no attention. When he was within three feet of the shot the explosion occurred.

No large stones were thrown, the shot sending forth mostly sand. The young man's face was terribly cut and bruised and he will likely lose one eye. His escape was almost miraculous. The injured man was removed to the home of his father, Wm. Gern, at Clinton, where he received medical aid.
